Beware of social media. Beware of anything you see on the internet. According to The Catholic Herald and several other Catholic publications, over a million fake AI videos and other social media posts have been created to fool Catholics, and they are targeted specifically at older Catholics. Again, beware of what you read particularly on sites like Facebook. Many posts are fake, or they contain fabricated information. If they are not directly - not reposted - from someone you know in person, or they are from a trusted site like the Diocese of Evansville, the USCCB, Bishop Baron or somewhere similar, it is best to ignore them. There are a lot of people out there trying to trick you.

This is why obtaining information in-person is so important. We are proud that Dr. James Ware from the University of Evansville will be coming to speak on March 1st, and Father Keith Hart will be here on March 8th. The presentations will be on Sunday evening and we will have a soup supper before they start. Please come and invite others to come as well.
