This past Monday, June 29th, we celebrated the patronal Feast of our parish - the Solemnity of Saints Peter and Paul. Even though these are two of the most important Saints, they share one Feast Day. It is a reminder to us that although their ministries appeared different, and they were directed toward different communities, they were and are part of our one Church. Since next year this Feast will be on a Tuesday, we hopefully will be able to have a greater celebration.

On this 4th of July, we celebrate the 250th anniversary of the birth of our country. We have always believed that we are a special people in the sight of God. However, if we claim this honor, it also places extraordinary demands upon us. We can no longer be "like the other nations" We must live up both to the demands God placed on his people at Mount Sinai, and the obligations Jesus placed upon his Church when he gave us the Beatitudes. Because God is infinitely fair and just, we will be required to live with the consequences of our decisions. Anything else would deny us our free will. This weekend we need to rededicate ourselves so that if we claim to be "one People under God" we will always act as God's people.
